- ▶ Qualification: M.A/Edu/M.Phil. /Ph.D.
- ▶ Designation: Associate Professor
- ▶ Department: Education
- ▶ Area of Specialization: Educational Psychology

My professional journey has been defined by a dual passion for academic excellence and effective administration. I am driven by the mission to cultivate a dynamic learning ecosystem where students are empowered and scholarly inquiry thrives.

My contributions extend significantly beyond the classroom. I have designed and implemented several key initiatives, including Student Mentorship Program, I played a pivotal role in guiding and supporting students in their academic, personal, and professional development. Through regular mentoring sessions, I addressed students' academic concerns, encouraged participation in co-curricular activities, and fostered a positive learning environment that promoted confidence, motivation, and holistic growth.

In addition, as a coordinator of the Curriculum Review Committee, I contributed to the periodic evaluation and revision of academic programs to ensure alignment with the National Education Policy (NEP) 2020, emerging educational trends, and the needs of learners. My role involved reviewing course content, recommending pedagogical innovations, and suggesting updates to make the curriculum more outcome-oriented, interdisciplinary, and relevant to contemporary educational contexts which enhanced student engagement and academic rigor. I also demonstrated strategic leadership in planning, coordinating, and successfully executing two NAAC assessment and accreditation visits, ensuring exemplary institutional preparedness, seamless coordination, and full compliance with prescribed quality benchmarks.

My leadership was formally recognized when I was appointed as Acting Principal and later as Acting Nodal Principal. During these tenures, I not only ensured the smooth functioning of day-to-day academic and administrative operations but also effectively represented the institution in high-level meetings, policy discussions, and inter-institutional coordination forums. I provided strategic direction in academic planning, governance, and stakeholder engagement, upholding institutional excellence and fostering a culture of collaboration, transparency, and accountability. As a key representative of the institution, I have actively engaged with external stakeholders in policy dialogues and academic consortiums.
